

Atonement Day '96 - By Fanny Jacobson

And for all these I repent
Forgive me, absolve me, grant me atonement

For the sin of pretence for being intense For straddling the fence
forgive me

For the sin of lying the sin of crying
the sin of prying
forgive me

For all my predictions
the sin of poor diction
and for my addictions
forgive me

And for all these I repent
Forgive me, absolve me, grant me atonement

For the sin of waste
the sin of haste
the sin of bad taste
forgive me

For my evil ways
my lascivious gaze
and for my cliches
forgive me

And for all these I repent
Forgive me, absolve me, grant me atonement
